WASHINGTON, DC (November 5, 2009) – The US Business Leadership Network (USBLN®) today announced that its Executive Director & General Counsel, John D. Kemp, will be featured on the Sky Radio Network's upcoming edition of "Industry Innovators" airing worldwide on Delta Air Lines throughout November/December 2009. Kemp's radio interview calls attention to the high unemployment rate among people with disabilities.

The Campaign for Disability Employment, a collaborative effort which the USBLN is a founding member of, supported Mr. Kemp's three-minute interview about capitalizing on the talents and abilities of all employees – including people with disabilities – which will air on the Sky Radio Network. The interview will have a captive audience of over 10.1 million business travelers and frequent flyers. The high-quality business and lifestyle programming educates and entertains millions of airline passengers every month. "Industry Innovators" presents audio interviews that spotlight industry leaders and innovative business solutions. They focus on companies, both large and small, from a variety of industries.

"We're thankful for the opportunity to help raise awareness about disability diversity in the workplace, marketplace and supplier chain to over 10 million travelers," summarized Kemp about his interview on the Sky Radio Network. "It is my hope that the interview will share our message that at work, it's what people can do that matters...and, by capitalizing on everyone's talents and abilities at work – including people with disabilities – business can benefit; there's a great dividend to be realized by fully including people with disabilities."
